

Avco's Apollo Ablative

APOLLO'S HEAT SHIELD: Was made by the Avco Corporation, in its Lowell Plant, - Space System's Division. Technicians are shown injecting heat shield material into the individual honeycomb cells covering the Command Module's three-man crew compartment. The ablative material, developed by Avco, withstood the minus 150 degrees temperature in the vicinity of the moon, and will also protect the three astronauts during the re-entry tomorrow when the temperature is expected to reach 5,000 degrees.

Wilmington residents who had a part in the development and manufacture of the ablative material for the heat shield of the Apollo program include: Stanley Bobek of Baland Road, Senior Apollo Scheduler; Harold Collins, Suncrest Avenue, Apollo Quality Control Planner; Arlene F Phillips, Safford Street, Secretary, Quality Engineering; William S. Diehl, Hamlin Lane, Section Chief, Quality Control; Sheldon E. Osberg, Lawrence Street, Experimental Inspection Technician; David A. Lanoce, School St. Experimental Development Technician.

The ablative material in the heat shield is a type of reinforced plastic, a phenolic epoxy resin, and is the result of three years of work by the Avco Corporation.

A NEW TROPHY: In the Display Cabinet of the High School. Not very large, it is of importance to the High School Band. It signifies that the Wilmington High School Band won second place, in the 'Bunny Parade' on Easter Sunday of this year, at Waltham. About forty bands were competing.

WHERE THE BUCK MONEY WAS

How much money did Frank Farrell find? He isn't telling, but there is a twinkle in his eye, and he says it is a secret between himself and the bank.

It was Mrs Farrell who found it - the ancient secret of Benjamin Buck, who was the financier to the Town of Wilmington and anyone else who wanted to borrow money, back about the time of the Civil War.

Barbara Lord Farrell was busy cleaning one of the ancient chestnut beams, framework for the three century old house, when a portion on one of the beams moved slightly under the pressure of her hand.

And Frank Farrell did a little prying, and found the place where Benjamin Buck put his money.

When the Selectmen of Wilmington needed money, during the Civil War they borrowed it from Benjamin - $1,000 at a time.

When the Congregational Church steeple blew down in 1876 it was Benjamin Buck who loaned the church $5000 to rebuild the steeple.

And when Benjamin died, in 1885, and his nephew John Henry Buck inherited the house, there was no money. John Henry lived in penury. Frank Farrell knows why.

It's just like the old fairy tales of long ago - or something out of a modern mystery story - a secret panel in an ancient beam.

The Farrell family bought the old homestead, which dates back to 1671 or 1672, last summer, and since then have been rebuilding and repairing.

It was scheduled to be demolished because it would cost too much to repair. To replace the rotting beams, under the house, would cost thousands of dollars,

WHERE THE MONEY WAS: Frank Farrell points to the hiding place for the Buck Money. The boards were made of chestnut, and the hiding place looks like any of the many chestnut beams in the old Buck homestead.

Joseph Woods Funeral Saturday

Former Selectman Joseph H. Woods, Sr., died in the St. Johns Hospital in Lowell Tuesday, after a short illness. A native of Malden, he was 74 years old, and had been a resident of Wilmington for the past 41 years.

Mr Woods was first elected to the Board of Selectmen in 1951, at the time when Wilmington voted to adopt the Town Manager plan, and served quietly and effectively during the formative years of the present government of Wilmington.

A World War I Veteran, he had served in the U.S. Army. He was a Past Commander of the Wilmington Post 136, American Legion, and had held practically every office in the Post. He was also a member of the St. Thomas Holy Name Society, and of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks. He had worked for many years, before retiring, as a clerk for the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Mr. Woods is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Coye, and the couple had celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last spring. They made their home at 23 Beacon Street.

Beside his wife he is survived by 10 children: Joseph H. Woods Jr., Robert J., William H., Richard J., Edward J., Miss Margery L. Woods, Miss Mildred F. Woods, Mrs Winifred Barry and Mrs Catherine Liston, all of Wilmington, and Leo J. Woods of Longmeadow. 24 grandchildren also survive, and a sister, Mrs Dorothy Obeir of Chelmsford.

The funeral is to be held from the W. S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 274 Main Street, on Saturday at 9 a.m., followed by a Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Thomas Church at 10 a.m. Burial will follow in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Robert, William, Richard and Edward Woods will serve as pall bearers for their father.

The American Legion will hold Legion Services at the Cavanaugh Funeral Home tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Calling hours at the Funeral Home are tonight and Friday, from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Two Christmas Eve Accidents

Two Wilmington men had roadside accidents, on Christmas Eve. Both were alone in their cars at the time of the accident.

David Cantwell, about 23 years old, of MacDonald Road, lost control of his car, a 1955 Chevrolet, at about 5:15 p.m. on Salem Street. He was traveling south at the time.

His car struck a parked car belonging to Mrs Carl Davidson of Salem Street, and then caromed across the street to end up against a large jack pine. The car was totally destroyed.

Cantwell was taken to Saint Johns Hospital in Lowell, in the Fire Department ambulance.

Richard Rossi, 34 years old, of 520 Woburn Street suffered a broken nose and several broken ribs when his car struck a light pole near the power station on Wildwood Street, at about 7 p.m. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the Fire Department Ambulance.

Rossi told the Wilmington police that the headlights of another car had blinded him.

Xmas Mail

Postmaster Bill Lynch reports that all Christmas mail was delivered in time for the holiday, and says 'Thanks' to his fellow postal workers, and to the public, for their co-operation in the Early Program.

Lynch and the postal employees issued a sigh of relief, Tuesday morning, after the last mail went out, and said 'Merry Christmas!'

Fred Shine, of Grove Avenue, delivers the mail.

Well, not exactly, but in a sense. Fred is stationed on board the Fleet Oiler USS Mattaponi, and his ship is the one that delivers the fuel oil to the ships on Yankee Station, off Vietnam.

And when the Mattaponi sails off to deliver fuel oil it also takes along the mail for the ships it is going to service.

One of the ships it recently serviced was the Battleship New Jersey, on which Raymond Mahoney, who used to work in the tri Town gas station is a Fireman. The two men didn't even know they were so close - and yet perhaps so far away.

Fred has written a letter saying that one time while the Mattaponi was delivering fuel to the Cruiser Boston a rocket was fired from shore, and the Boston, which is a rocket-cruiser, just simply plastered the beach with rockets in return. The New Jersey was nearby at the time.

Another time, Fred says, his ship had to go into DaNang, with a hospital case. About three dozen escorts formed up, and protected the Mattaponi, as it drew close to shore. It was quite impressive!

Richard Cornish was recently promoted to the rank of SP 5, in ceremonies held near the Tan Son Nhut Air Base, in Vietnam. Cornish is the son of Mr and Mrs Percival Cornish of 4 Central Street.

He is a Combat Supply Specialist with the 1st Battalion, 505th Infantry, of the 3rd Brigade, 82nd Airborne Division, which is currently conducting search and destroy operations in the swamp and rice paddy districts northwest of Saigon. His duties include the supervision of the battalion's helicopter pad, as well as responsibility for the flow of supplies to the combat area.

Before going to Vietnam last July Cornish served for three years in Germany with the 60th Artillery, as a repair specialist for the Army's Hawk Missiles. He hopes to return to Germany, for another three year tour, after rotating from Vietnam.

In his four years of service Cornish has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, and the Bronze Star Medal for service.

Barney (Red) Solow, a career man in the US Air Force, has left for duty in South Dakota, with his wife. Before he left he bought a trailer, in which to live off base.

Barney has just returned (Dec. 18th) from a year in Vietnam. And he'll be in the Air Force for many years yet. He loves it.

John F. Conway of 108 Burlington Avenue, a 1968 graduate of the Wentworth Institute, is now undergoing recruit training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. His address is: SR John F Conway, B16-03-70; Co 743, 15th Batt. First Regt. RTC, Great Lakes, Illinois 60088.

Fireman Apprentice Michael J Burt, son of Mr and Mrs Frank R Burt of 217 Andover Street is now serving aboard the destroyer USS Preston, operating off the coast of Vietnam.

The Preston recently concluded a five day gunfire support mission for the Third Battalion, 506th Infantry, of the 101st Airborne Division, in Operation McLean, in South Vietnam.

120 DAY DELAY FOR ENLISTMENT

Under the 120 Day Delay Program, the Navy has been authorized to enlist qualified young men and give them up to 120 days to report for active duty.

The delay time prior to reporting to active duty counts toward completion of military obligation, builds longevity for pay purposes and affords four months' seniority prior to entering recruit training. No attendance at drills or meetings is required during the waiting period.

If you are presently a High School Senior, you can enlist in the Navy as early as March 1969 and report for active duty after Graduation.

For further information on this program or any other program offered by the Navy, drop in to see the Navy Recruiter at the Post Office Building, on Merrimack St in Lowell, or call him for an appointment at 452-0511.

Singing Carols

With voices lifted in harmony for "Silent Night," "The First Noel" and other beloved songs, today's carolers carry on a Christmas custom that originated centuries ago.

In the fourth century A.D., St. Basil was praised with a musical poem in honor of the fight for Christianity over the Byzantine emperor Julian. Later in Greece, legends of St. Basil were set to music and sung at Christmas and the New Year.

St. Francis of Assisi led the villagers of Greccio in singing hymns of praise to the Christ Child when in the 13th century he created a manger scene in this Italian town.

Dear Larz,

I think I have a fair sense of humor so I am trying very hard to find the joke in Mr. Chandler's presentation. What I thought I heard was a fellow human, with a soul like mine, with the same hopes and aspirations as mine pleading indeed, demanding that they be recognized as were mine. Like yourself, I felt that some of the points of Mr Chandler's talk might have been historically inaccurate. He did not, however, come among us primarily to teach history. He came to bring a message of suffering, brutal treatment, and contempt of his people by ours, not in Zululand, but in America. Can we deny this?

He came to hold up a mirror, so that we might see ourselves as the black man sees us. The morrow's view, was an ugly one. The words used were harsh. The tragedy is that we whites of Wilmington didn't care enough to listen.

The blacks of the town, the few we have tolerated, did not have to come to find out what it is really like. THEY KNOW!

Yet, percentage wise, if as many whites came as did blacks, the hall would have been filled to capacity. I feel grateful that among those that do care were some of our teachers.

Perhaps, as Mr Chandler pointed out, hope lies in our children and guided by teachers dedicated as are these, the hope will be realized.

If there is anything funny in all of this, I fail to see it. I pray only that some day, the black man and the white man can laugh together rather than the one have the last laugh on the other.

Sincerely,
Leo G. Barry

Well, do all of you mothers have X's for eyes now! This chick does. Over the weekend there must have been fifteen kids at our house, sleeping in shifts, and we're still not sure which one is which! However, a gay time was had by all, inspite of the sore throats and swollen glands that are creeping up on us gradually. (Jeepers, just got the group standing up from the last round, and here we go for No. 2)

We really want to compliment The TM and Palmer on the way these roads are getting cleared and salted...It certainly is wonderful...as one gentleman from Methuen pointed out...you certainly know the minute you hit Wilmington, because the roads are so great...and that is music to our ears! Also, may I add that several of the townsfolk have complimented the Highway Department and asked me to put this little thank you in to them and the Boss!

Heard from quite a few of the boys over 'there' with cards and notes...and Thank you Group! You make this gal's heart lighter with your encouragement!

With the National Guard are Steve White and Pvt John Knowlton Co A, 19th Bn, 5th Tr Bde, 2nd Pltn, USATC Armor, Fort Knox Kentucky 40121.....And Bob Knowlton has been discharged from the Chelsea Naval Hospital and will be home from school for one month. They live at 175 Wildwood St in Town...A card from Peter J. Mazzapica...

From Jimmy Murray in his card: 'Hi Nancy, Thought I would drop you a line and thank you very much for the card that you and the Clan sent to me. I was really happy to receive it, and I am to receive any mail over here. A guy sure would be lost without mail over here. My family have the paper sent to me and the first thing I read is your article.

'I think that it is wonderful of you, Nancy to print all of the stories that you do. I know it really makes a guy feel good to read the news about home. I'll be home in March, Nancy, and I will be making Beverly Boudreau my wife on March 22nd. That will be a great day for me. Well, I'll close for now, Nancy. Again thank you for your thought and card. See you in March! Sincerely,

Jimmy Murray. P.S. Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year to you All!

(Thanks Jimmy for your thoughtfulness aussi. May you and Bev live happily ever after. You've earned it!)

And from Don Fisher on 14 Dec 68 from Chu, Lai(?):

'Hi Nosey Nancy: Well to begin with, I don't know exactly what to write. I wish I knew a little more about you, but since I don't, I'll have to write what I think you want. Since you are Nosey Nancy I suppose you want to know something about me, and what I do over here.

'As for me, I'm 21 years old and have been in the Marine Corps almost 3 years. My state residence is in Waltham. Although I have two sisters, and a brother, living in Wilmington. I am the youngest of 9 children and I am the only one not married.

'As for my job. I am aircraft Hydraulics Technician, sounds important, doesn't it? All it really amounts to is being a grease monkey. We change tires and grease aircraft. I work on the A-6A Intruder an attack aircraft that flies in bad weather.

'As for where I live and work Chu Lai is probably one of the largest beaches in Viet Nam. It's about 10 miles long down the coast to 7 miles deep to the foot of the Mountains. You'd never guess where we are, right in the middle of this sandtrap. It really isn't that bad, though. I only live about 300 yards from the ocean. I'm close to the PX, Mess Hall, and the Flick (Movies)!

'I live in a hut wph 11 other men. We live fairly comfortably. As a matter of fact, our living conditions are better than some I've seen in the STATES. We, in fixed wing aircraft squadrons realize, we have it better over here than the guys in Helos and those pounding the bush for Charlie.

'We at Chu Lai are glad that this is a quite base compared to most others in Viet Nam.

Charlie Just Doesn't Bother Us MUCH!

'Further Study' Voted for Water Impoundment Areas

Mrs. Madeline McKie, Chairlady of the Wilmington Planning Board, was congratulated last week by both the Wilmington Board of Selectmen and by Professor Charles Elliot, consultant to the Planning Board, for her work with the Metropolitan Area Planning Council, relative to a proposal to impound water in Wilmington, as a reservoir for other communities.

She succeeded in getting the MAPC to vote for 'Further Study' rather than to just accept the proposed plan. Professor Elliot said she did it very nicely, and further noted that immediately prior to her motion one made by the City Manager of Cambridge had lost. It was the City Manager of Cambridge who had seconded the motion of Mrs. McKie.

Following is a copy of the report which Mrs. McKie gave to the Board of Selectmen of Wilmington.

REPORT OF MAPC MEETING DECEMBER 12, 1968

The full Council of the MAPC met at 1 pm on December 12, 1968 at Philometia Hall, Boston College, Newton. The following action was voted by the Council Members:

1. Two communities were added to the area, bringing the total membership to 99 cities and towns a. Town of Wrentham; b. Town of Littleton.
2. The Open Space & Recreation Plan for the Mystic, Charles & Neponset Rivers was accepted and approved by the Council, which also endorsed the general policies of the Program.
3. The Open Space & Recreation Plan and Program, Volume I, received considerable discussion. Many pros and cons concerning the plan were brought to the attention of the Council.

Mr. Brownell of the Department of Natural Resources noted several reservations mentioned in the report which he felt were in conflict or in a questionable status regarding programs presently undertaken by his department. Mr. Straw of the MDC noted that nowhere in the report was the source of monies discussed. Several representatives of towns remarked that some of the areas proposed for preservation has been partially developed and added that the longer acquisition was delayed the more costly the program would be.

Mr. Davidson, Executive Director of the MAPC spoke on costs of the program. He said that this could be considered a 10-year 320 million dollar program. Realistically he felt it would not be completed within the 10 year period, but felt that the Council should aim for this time schedule.

The representatives of several towns felt that the report was not specific enough to vote on at this time.

Mr. Bates, TAC Chairman, moved adoption, acceptance and recommendation of the general policies of the report.

Mr. Sullivan, City Manager of Cambridge, moved to refer the report for further study. Mr. Sullivan was concerned about the recommendations of the report concerning the Cambridge water supply. The motion was lost.

Mrs. McKie, of Wilmington, moved to amend the original motion by adding the words, 'with the provision that the recommendations contained in the report with respect to impoundment areas in Wilmington be subject to further study, review and redefinition.' She explained that she had discussed the report briefly with the Town Manager, but felt it was too ambiguous to bring to the attention of the Selectmen. She felt that since Wilmington had exempted itself from impoundment areas under the provisions of the Ipswich River Commission, it was mandatory that she ask the staff to re-examine the areas proposed for impoundment with the officials of the Town. The motion carried.

Mr. Quill, Pembroke, moved to amend by asking more study on reservation in that town. Professor Elliot moved that Cambridge be added to this amendment. For considerable discussion, the motion carried. Following this the main motion was voted and passed and the meeting was adjourned.

A reception for Father Seavey Joyce former President of the MAPC now President of Boston College, followed in Alumni Hall at which time a gift of a watch appropriately inscribed was presented to him.

Bridge Bid:
$317,281

The lowest apparent bid, for the construction of the Nichols Street Bridge, over the Boston & Maine Railroad, last week, was $317,281.

It was submitted by the Bendon Engineering Corporation, and the Bendon Construction Corp. of Milton, bidding jointly.

The bids were opened at the DPW headquarters, 100 Nashua St. Boston. Present to represent the Town of Wilmington was the Town Manager, Sterling Morris, and the Town Engineer, Arthur Harding.

Rep. Fred F. Cain, who originally interested the DPW in the construction of the bridge was also present.

Five other firms also bid. The DPW estimate for the cost of construction was $273,001. According to Town Engineer Arthur Harding such estimates are always about 15% below construction costs.

The Service Warehouse Story

It isn't often that a firm seeks to locate in a position where its main building will be in two different towns or cities.

Such a position means additional headaches, taxes to two towns, etc etc.

Yet this is what the Service Warehouse did, when it built in Wilmington last summer. Part of the main building is in Wilmington, and part of it is in Andover.

There was a good reason. Leslie Morash, president of the company wanted to be located in this town, and he wanted a railroad siding too. In order to get what he wanted he had to locate in two towns.

But the company is unique in other ways as well. It has a service of warehouse distribution, which is practically unique.

Only the old timers of Wilmington will remember the trucks of the W F Buckley Company, which trucked cotton to Lowell and wool to Lawrence 50 years ago, from Boston. That was in the days of hard rubber tires, when Main St. was really just a two lane highway.

There were other trucks and autos of course, but the W F Buckley Company was the one which always had full loads of cotton, as their trucks came through town.

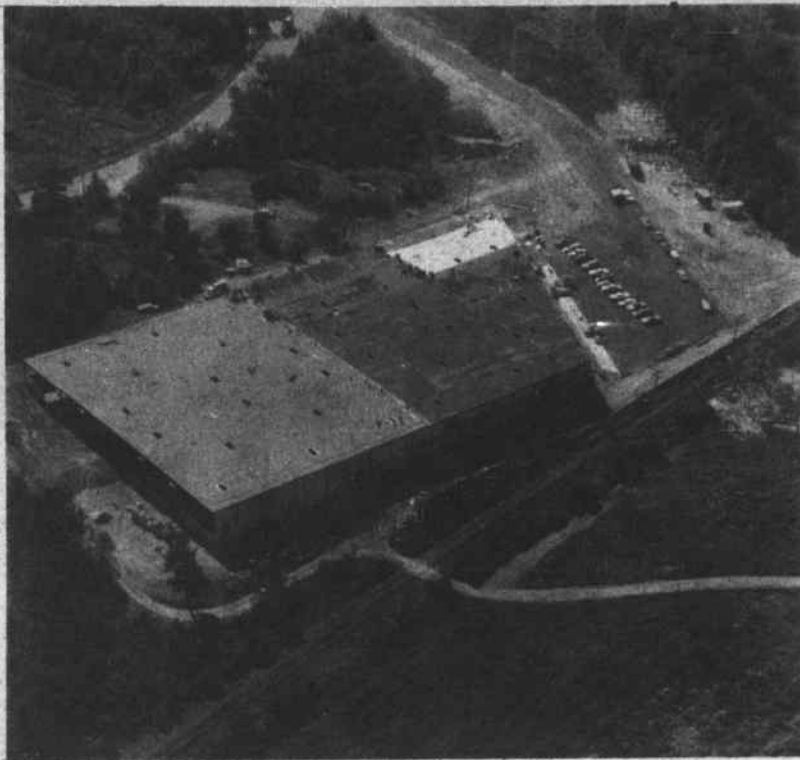

One of the employees of that company was William Morash. He saw an opportunity for a different type of warehousing - one which would provide a distribution service, and in 1921, in conjunction with W F Buckley, William Morash founded a firm which became distributors, as well as warehousemen, for New England firms.

The two men formed a partnership, and hired 14,000 square feet of the Lewis Wharf, in Boston.

The company provided an answer to a long felt but unexpressed need. National shippers, such as Pet Milk and Quaker Oats became their clients, and in 1924 Mr Morash became the sole owner.

The company which he founded withstood the depression years, and continued to grow, until 1938 when Mr Morash died. His widow, Mrs Sadie Morash, picked up the reins, and became one of the most remarkable people in the business, so much so that she was soon listed in Who's Who in American Women, and in Commerce and Industry.

She had a son, Leslie, who was 12 years old. She fulfilled the duties of president of the firm, and of mother simultaneously, and in both she did well. The firm prospered, and Leslie went on to a college education, graduating from Boston University in 1948 with a BS in Accounting.

AN OUTSTANDING DISTRIBUTION CENTER: Is the term for the new warehouse of the Service Warehouse, off Ballardvale Street. It is partly in Wilmington and partly in Andover, and is designed to effect its service with a minimum of trucking. About 100,000 square feet in area, it probably cost over $500,000. Ballardvale Street is in the background, and the B&M RR in the foreground.

He had been working part time in the warehousing operation, but now became a full time employee. He continued his education with part time studies, and in 1950 he won a Master's Degree in Business Administration.

Leslie Morash became the president of the Service Warehouse, and of the W F Buckley Co in 1953, when his mother retired. He was 28 years old.

Morash, in 1958, entered into a partnership with Benjamin Jacobowitz, a man with 35 years of experience in the trucking business. Mr Jacobowitz became the president of the W F Buckley Company and Morash the president of the Service Warehouse Co. With the partnership a new dimension was added to the Distribution Market phase of the company, and the firm took over a six story building, on Midway Street in Boston.

The Lewis Wharf operation was closed four years later. The area was too congested, and another facility on Midway Street was acquired. A few years later still another facility was acquired, at 35 Sleeper Street. The total area devoted to the warehousing and distribution service had grown to 233,000 feet, and at the same time the trucking fleet was expanded accordingly, as well as increased personnel to service the two parts of the business.

Morash is a man who believes in local participation. When he decided to move part of his business to Wilmington he went to a local Realtor, Mrs. Nancy Clark, to have the land purchased for him, and to a local architect and builder, Raymond Fitzmaurice, to do the designing and building.

They did well by Morash. He is particularly pleased with the building, which embodies many of his own ideas.

It is not a place where many people are employed. Half a dozen men, on the average, can be found there at any particular time. But it is a place where national firms can feel safe in having their materials stored, and ready for distribution, when needed, to any place in New England, by rail or by truck.

In his spare time Morash teaches in Northeastern University. He is an Instructor of Physical Distribution Management there, and has been teaching the course since 1953.

Mrs Morash, who has seen many summers, is still very active in the firm, and serves as a director. She came to Wilmington, after the site had been chosen, to see it for herself, and was in this town many times during the construction of the warehouse.

The main idea, Morash says, is Organization. The organization of the company has led it into a virtual distribution revolution. It can deliver what is needed, in any place in New England, on 24 hours notice.

THE CHIMNEYS LEAN TO THE SOUTHEAST: As in the case of all old chimneys in New England which have not undergone repairs. Hundreds of summers, with the morning sun drying out the dew of the evening before, is the cause. If the sun rose in the west the chimneys would lean to the Southwest.

The chimney nearest the camera was probably built about 1745. That on the other side of the building is the original chimney, built in 1671.

STAIRWELL IN OLDEST PART OF HOUSE: From the kitchen to the second story in the part of the house that was built in 1671. When first built there was no stairs, but a wooden ladder, to get up to the sleeping room, upstairs.

it had been estimated. Frank replaced them for $200, and a lot of hard labor.

Other parts of the ancient homestead, oldest building in Wilmington, and ancestral home of many people in the United States who bear the name of Buck, will be replaced or rebuilt by Farrell. He is going at the job a little bit at a time.

There is a lot to be seen, in the old homestead - original HL hinges on doors nearly 300 years old, - chestnut beams and pine rafters, and bricks of several varieties, some made locally, and some of them brought from England in the trading ships that plied between the mother country and the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, in the years before anyone ever dreamed of a Revolutionary War.

It was the back part of the house that was built in 1671 or 1672, by Ephraim Buck and his son Roger, who had been the 'public executioner' for the Town of Cambridge. They lived side by side, in a building which had two kitchens on the ground floor, and a common chimney between, and two rooms on the second floor.

Later, probably about 1745, the front part of the house was added.

Generations of the Buck family lived in this house, and for 150 years or so there was always a 'father-son' relationship, one family on one side, and one family on the other.

The division of the house was continued in the barn. One half of the barn was for the 'father' side of the family and the other for the 'son' side.

And there was never a deed for the old place, which had hundreds of acres of land, until it was necessary to make one, after John Henry Buck died, in 1923, and the house was sold out of the Buck family.

It was in this house that Colonel Jonathan Buck was born - he who founded a place in Maine which was called Buckstown, and later Bucksport. The gravestone of Colonel

TAXPAYER ASSISTANCE

Assistance to taxpayers, by the Lower Office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, located at 500 Essex Street, Lawrence, is scheduled for Friday, January 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31, 1969.

On those days personnel from the Internal Revenue Service will be available from the hour of 8:30 am to 5 pm to render taxpayer assistance to all taxpayers who call at the office seeking assistance in the preparation of their Federal income tax returns.

Buck has a discoloration called 'the witch's boot' and from that discoloration weird legends have arisen, legends which have been printed in many magazines.

Nathan Buck, Constable of Wilmington, in 1774, living in the Buck House, was the man who paid the taxes of the town to the Colonial Legislature, in Concord, rather than to the Royal Government in Boston - the first overt act of the Revolution in Wilmington. (He did so, of course, on instruction of the Town Meeting).

Descendants of the Buck family have fought in every war in which Massachusetts Bay Colony, or the United States has been involved, and in the Civil War they fought in both Blue and Grey uniforms. There were men who had descended from Ephraim Buck in Alabama regiments, and in South Carolina regiments, on the Rebel side, and in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Maine regiments, on the Union side.

Bucks County, Pennsylvania, received its name from Buck men who left Bucksport Maine, to go south - and some of them continued on further, to establish lumber mills in South Carolina, and eventually Alabama.

But the secret of Benjamin Buck is now out. The place where the Buck money was kept has been found.

(PS. Actually, there was nothing in the hiding place except dust, Ed)

Taxpayers desiring telephone assistance may call 683-8792 any time from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm on the days indicated.

In hoop action last week, the Wildcats split their conference encounters. Losing at Andover, 81-60 and bouncing back on Friday night to defeat Dracut 67-59. Capt Ed Thomas played an excellent game in defeat as he scored 20 points and captured 15 rebounds. The Wildcats fell behind early in their loss to the Golden Warriors and trailed at half-time 42-31. The third period was close, but the boys were still at the short end 55-42. A 26 pt fourth period by Andover finished all hopes of winning their final game of the season. Other conference action saw Billerica bombing Methuen 68-48; Chelmsford rolling over Burlington, 72-58, and No Andover crushing Tewksbury, 80-54.

Before a small home crowd, on a stormy Friday night, the Wildcats ran off to a 15 pt half time lead, 34-19 over Dracut. Then had to hang on for dear life as the Middles outscored our boys 40-33 in the second half to make it a very close game. Vin Spano (12 pts) Jim Tildsley (14 pts) and Dan Ballou (12 pts) led the team in scoring.

Sophomore Dennis Murphy played a fine game, scoring three key field goals in crucial situations in the hectic fourth period when it seemed the Wildcats would revert to old form, that of running out of gas. But the boys were not to be denied and won their first game of the year. Ken Moore the outstanding Dracut football quarterback, again proved too much for Wilmington as he led all scorers with 32 points. No Andover defeated Methuen, 82-55; Andover belted Billerica, 60-59 and Chelmsford continued their winning ways dropping a stubborn Tewksbury 73-67 in other conference games.

Tomorrow night, the Wildcats will participate in a Holiday Tournament at Burlington High. They will tap off at 7:00 pm. The Championship and consolation games will be played on Saturday Night.

Hockey

Dave O'Connell scored 3 goals and assisted on 2 others to lead the Wildcats to a 5 - 0 rout of Tewksbury last Saturday.

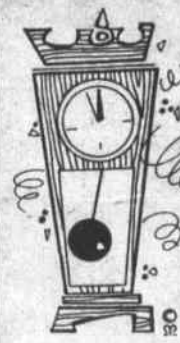

In other games, Chelmsford did all of its scoring in the second period as it blanked Billerica, 2-0. Andover had to battle back with a third period goal to earn a tie 1-1, with Masconomet.

Helping O'Connell in the scoring department were freshmen Steve Neal and Sophomore Jim Irwin with one goal apiece. This was a hard hitting affair, with 16 penalties being called, 9 of which were whistled against Wilmington.

The first goal came on a deflection by the Tewksbury goalie, as he was unable to clear a blue line shot by O'Connell. The shot was wide and bounced off the boards to the goal tender and he was unable to hold it, thus a Wildcat score.

On as perfect a play as you would ever see, our second goal was scored by young Jim Irwin at the 26 second mark of the second period. Dave O'Connell set up the score as he took the opening face-off and circled the Tewksbury net and centered a perfect pass in front of the Redmen

More Nancy

"That's about it for me! I want to thank you for thinking of me over the holidays. I'm sure you have done the same for many others over here."

"I realize good deeds don't often make headlines. We are the most well informed fighting men in history, but still the bad prevails. I assure you we are not ignorant to the good people are doing no matter what much of the press thinks."

"There is no place like home and that is where I'll be in six weeks. Thank you Nosey Nancy. May you have much happiness and good luck. I hope this letter hasn't been too boring. Sincerely yours, D J Fisher"

(Boring...On the contrary, Don, we were delighted to hear so much about your doings! If you are coming home in six weeks...Please be certain to stop in and say hello to us at the Depot...We'll be looking for you and May God Bless You and Keep You until then!)

Did you know that Dave Daley of Strout Avenue formerly of Somerville, has joined the new Police Department of the Mass Bay Trans Authority! His father is Dave Daley Sr., of 105 Boston Ave in Somerville who is an MBTA starter at the Salem Street carhouse Medford.

Well, Life in Town is quiet this week while everyone gathers their wits and things for the ensuing year. This gal wishes to tell all of you at this time how great you have been with your assistance both in help with the NN Projects and in keeping this chick up with where the boys are and what is happening Town wise. If it weren't for all of you, each and every one and your good hearts, this chick couldn't make this NN column work! Thanks again! Happy New Year from our house to Your House, and May Peace be with You for 1969!

Does one say Congratulations to Phillip Buzzell, when he wins a case at law? The former Town Counsel of Wilmington has been doing that for years - and besides he has won so many cases in his life that one more congrat. would just be that.

Phillip for the past several years has been counsel in a complicated case before the Courts of Massachusetts having to do with the right-of-way for electric power lines. It was out in Concord, Sudbury and Wayland, and the Selectmen of those towns finally got into the fight, on a 'Preserve Our Beauty' Basis.

Lawyers, by one story, are supposed to throw everything into a good fight, up to and including the Kitchen Sink.

Phillip went one better. He found an old Indian Burying Ground, and alleged to the Court that the Right-of-Way would desecrate the last resting place of the noble redskins.

Well, the Christian Science Monitor, last Saturday, called it a 'landmark case'. The Massachusetts Judicial Supreme Court ruled against Boston Edison and in favor of the towns, unanimously. The Court held that there was such a thing as natural beauty.

With or without the Indians, Phillip won that one.

Now he has a similar fight, this time with the Town of Reading, Municipal Light Department. It involves a proposed right-of-way in the west part of that town, and a private individual has hired Phillip to contest it.

Phillip probably won't have the Selectmen with him, this time, and it is to be doubted if he can find an Indian Burying Ground.
